Dubai-based Iranian artists Ramin and Rokni Haerizadeh and Hesam Rahmanian are showing their work in a new site-specific creation titled "ALLUVIUM" at the Complesso dell'Ospedale.

The exhibition, which takes place after the artists won the OGR Award at Artissima art fair in Turin, Italy in 2017, and their show "Forgive me distant wars for bringing flowers home" at OGR, or Officine Grandi Riparazioni, in Turin, looks metaphorically at the remnants left from the flow of news and history.

The artists explore what remains from this cycle and through their art attempt to give it new life and purpose as a way of cultural resistance.
